GUIDES FOR EVERYTHING

AI Tools, Connectors & MCP Directory

Hundreds of AI tools, connectors, and MCP servers, sorted by category, each with a plain-English description and a price label

This directory is a map of the AI landscape as it stands in October 2026: chat assistants, coding and vibe-coding tools, image, video, audio, writing, research, productivity, business, automation, agents, developer infrastructure, connectors, and MCP servers.

Every entry has a one-line description and a price label, so you can scan a category, spot what fits, and try it the same afternoon.

HOW TO READ THIS MANUAL

- Tip — a shortcut or good habit.
- Note — useful background.
- Warning — easy to get wrong.
- Danger — can lose data, money, or access.
- `$ command` — text you type, exactly as shown.
- Settings › Privacy — a menu path to click.

New words appear in bold the first time and are collected in the Glossary at the back.

Price labels and product details were checked against vendors' sites and public information in October 2026. The AI market changes weekly. Products get renamed, acquired, re-priced, or shut down, so always confirm on the vendor's site before you buy. Inclusion is not an endorsement.

How to Use This Directory

The three price labels

LABEL	MEANING
FREE	Free to use. Often open source. There may be optional donations, self-hosting costs, or paid cloud versions, but the core product costs nothing
FREEMIUM	A genuinely useful free tier or free plan, with paid upgrades for more usage or features
PAID	Requires a paid plan (sometimes after a short free trial)

For connectors and MCP servers, the label reflects what it costs you to use, including the service it connects to. An open-source server for a paid service is labeled by the service.

Tips for exploring

- Start with the free tier. Most tools let you try before you pay.
- One tool per job. Pick a favorite in each category rather than subscribing to everything.
- Check privacy settings before uploading personal or work data.
- Watch for bundles. Many AI features now come inside things you already pay for (Google, Microsoft, Notion, Adobe, Canva).

CHAPTER 16

How to Evaluate Any AI Tool

New AI tools launch every day. Use this fifteen-minute checklist before you trust one with your time, money, or data.

THE 15-MINUTE EVALUATION

1. Define the job.
   Write one sentence: "I need a tool that ___ so that ___."
2. Check who makes it.
   Is the company identifiable, with a real website, a privacy policy, and contact details?
3. Read the pricing page.
   Note free-tier limits, what counts as "usage" or "credits," and how cancellation works.
4. Read the data policy.
   Is your content used for training? Can you opt out? Where is the data stored?
5. Run your real test.
   Use a realistic but non-sensitive sample of your actual work.
6. Compare against your current tool.
   Run the same task in a general assistant you already use. Is the new tool clearly better?
7. Check the exit.
   Can you export your data in a standard format?
8. Decide and set a reminder.
   If you start a trial, put the cancellation date in your calendar.

16.1 Scorecard

QUESTION	SCORE 0–2
Does it do my job better than what I already have?
Is the output accurate in my test?
Is the pricing clear and predictable?
Is the privacy policy acceptable for my data?
Can I export my work?
Is the company established, or the project well maintained?
Total (≥ 9 = worth adopting)

16.2 Red flags

- [ ] Promises of guaranteed income, profits, or “passive money”
- [ ] No pricing page, or pricing only “on request” for a consumer tool
- [ ] Asks for passwords to other services instead of using official sign-in (OAuth)
- [ ] Browser extensions requesting access to “all websites” without a clear reason
- [ ] No way to delete your account or data
- [ ] Fake-looking reviews, or a brand-new site with celebrity endorsements

CHAPTER 19

Choosing Between Similar Tools: Decision Guides

When three tools look the same, these questions usually settle it.

IF YOU'RE CHOOSING BETWEEN...	ASK	LEAN TOWARD
Chat assistants	Which ecosystem do you already live in?	The assistant built into it (Google → Gemini, Microsoft → Copilot), or try two for a week
App builders vs AI editors	Do you want to see or touch code?	No: an app builder. Yes: an AI editor or coding agent
Automation platforms	Do you need self-hosting or code steps?	Yes: n8n. Simplest setup: Zapier. Visual branching on a budget: Make
Meeting note-takers	Bot in the call, or bot-free?	Granola-style bot-free capture if guests dislike bots, otherwise whichever integrates with your calendar and CRM
Image generators	Photoreal, illustration, or text in images?	Run the same prompt on each one's free tier, and compare
Research tools	Academic papers or the general web?	Papers: Elicit or Consensus. Web: Perplexity or a search-enabled chat assistant

19.1 A two-week trial method

1. Write down 3 real tasks you'll do in the next two weeks.
2. Run every task in two candidate tools. Same input, same time limit.
3. Score each one 1–5 on quality, speed, ease of use and cost (use the Scorecard in How to Evaluate Any AI Tool).
4. Check the privacy settings and data-retention policy before uploading anything sensitive.
5. Keep the winner, cancel the other before the trial bills you, and set a calendar reminder to re-evaluate in 6 months.

Glossary of AI Product Terms

Agent	An AI that can take actions, such as clicking, editing files, or calling tools, to finish a task, not just reply.
API	A way for programs to use a service. Many AI tools offer one, usually billed per use.

Connector	A built-in integration that lets an AI app read or act in another service, such as Google Drive.
Context window	How much text an AI can consider at once.
Credits	A tool's own unit for metering usage. Check how fast tasks use them up.
Deep research	A mode where an AI searches many sources over several minutes and writes a cited report.
Fine-tuning	Further training a model on your own examples.
Freemium	A free tier with paid upgrades.
Hallucination	A confident but false AI output.
LLM	Large language model, the technology behind chat assistants.
Local model	An AI model that runs on your own computer instead of in the cloud.
MCP	Model Context Protocol, an open standard for connecting AI apps to tools and data.
Multimodal	Able to handle more than text, such as images, audio, and video.
Open weights	A model whose trained parameters are published so anyone can run it.
